ABSTRACT

The study determined the awareness and utilization of reproductive health services among residents in San Fernando City, La Union. It was conducted to find out if residents in San Fernando City, La Union were aware of the different reproductive health services offered by the Department of Health coursed through the Health agencies for implementation in the different barangays.

It also determined what reproductive health services were being utilized by the residents. Determining the awareness and utilization of the different reproductive health services among residents paved the way for the discovery of various reasons for the non-utilization of reproductive health services. And for that same discovery, it had helped the health care providers to assess the areas of improvement on the utilization of the reproductive health services.

Action plan was then formulated to strengthen the known weakness and conceptualize other means to maintain and sustain the strengths of reproductive health services among the residents in San Fernando City, La Union.
